Background and Context

The Sustainable Hydropower Development Project (SHDP) is a technical assistance project (TA Project) that will support the Royal Government of Bhutan (RGoB) to strengthen the capacity of the power sector agencies to plan and prepare regional hydropower and transmission line projects following international good practices.

The TA Project aims to: (i) support the update of the Detailed Project Report for Dorjilung Hydropower Project (Dorjilung HPP), a greenfield hydropower project in the pipeline, to be consistent with the Bhutan Hydropower Guidelines and the World Bank Environmental and Social Framework, and (ii) support capacity building in the power sector in Bhutan. The proposed implementing entity of the TA Project is Druk Green Power Corporation (DGPC) Limited, a state-owned holding company which manages and operates Bhutan's hydropower assets and participates in new hydropower development. Further information regarding the project description, components and activities can be found in the Project Paper on the World Bank website.

As part of the TA Project, draft terms of reference (TOR) for updating and completing the environmental and social (E&S) assessment and planning have been developed and will be disclosed on DGPC's and the World Bank's websites.

Stakeholder Engagement Plan

The scope of stakeholder engagement for the TA Project is limited and has therefore been integrated into the project's Environment and Social Commitment Plan (ESCP).

A Stakeholder Engagement Plan (SEP) will be developed for Dorjilung HPP as part of the deliverables under the TA Project. The SEP will guide meaningful stakeholder consultations on the project, including all E&S documents that will be developed/updated such as Environmental and Social Impact Assessment and Environmental and Social Management Plan, Labor Management Procedure, Resettlement Action Plan and SEP. The finalized documents will describe how the feedback of the stakeholders will be taken into account.

The specific stakeholder engagement requirements for the TA project are captured below. For further details on the SEP requirements, please consult the project ESCP document on the World Bank website.
