Carbon Finance: The World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe and Amendments to the Instrument Establishing the BioCarbon Fund

1. The purpose of this Memorandum is to request approval of the Executive Directors of (i) a partnership between the World Bank and the European Investment Bank (EIB) for the establishment of the World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe and (ii) certain amendments to the Instrument for the BioCarbon Fund (the “BioCF”).

The World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe

2. In accordance with previous communications to the Executive Directors, and Management’s commitment to continue to provide updates regarding the activities of the Carbon Finance Unit of the World Bank, the purpose of this Note is to seek approval from the Executive Directors on the proposed creation of a new carbon fund: the World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe (the Fund). As with the other carbon funds for which the World Bank acts as trustee,<sup>1</sup> this Fund would support the development of projects in developing countries and countries with economies in transition through the purchase from such projects of greenhouse gas emission reductions under the Clean Development Mechanism (CDM), the Joint Implementation Mechanism (JI) and International Emission Trading (EIT)<sup>2</sup> established by the Kyoto Protocol to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change.
3. In December 2004, the European Investment Bank (EIB) and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development signed a “Memorandum of Understanding” proposing that the two banks explore establishing a new carbon fund. The EIB Board approved the Fund for further development in July 2005. The World Bank’s Executive Directors endorsed “The Role of the World Bank in Carbon Finance: An Approach for Further Engagement” (Approach Paper) on December 6, 2005, in which the Fund was mentioned as a potential way to meet the objective of expanding the capacity of other financial and development institutions to support developing countries in carbon finance through providing carbon finance to projects prepared and appraised by other international financial institutions and exploring common funds for carbon finance. The Approach Paper also notes that such agreement with the EIB would allow the Bank to reduce transaction costs by consolidating future resources of European origin for carbon purchases into a single fund. In addition to these strategic benefits, the Fund would furthermore benefit from access to projects in the EIB lending portfolio, a €50 million special financing and a €10 million technical assistance instrument of the EIB for CDM and JI project activities.

<sup>2</sup> Emission reductions through EIT would be acquired in the context of so called “Green Investment Schemes” whereby the revenues from “greened assigned amount units” would be reinvested in a programmatic fashion to emission reducing activities through a fund structure established by the host country or other verifiable environmental benefits acceptable to Fund Participants.

4. The proposed Fund is driven by several realities in the carbon finance market and aligns with the role of the World Bank in the market:
  - a) The Kyoto Protocol and the emerging carbon emissions reduction market are at a critical juncture. The demand for emission reductions is conservatively estimated at 3.5 billion tons by 2012. Only a small amount of that demand has been met and time is running out. Although the first commitment period under the Kyoto Protocol continues until 2012, viable projects that can generate large volumes of emissions to meet the demand have not been developed at the scale needed. At the same time, geographic and technological diversity of greenhouse gas emission reduction projects is important to many countries both on the buyer and seller side of the carbon market. This Fund would enhance the capacity of Central and Eastern European countries with economies in transition to benefit from the carbon market through JI and EIT and, as with the existing carbon funds, the proposed Fund would help developing countries access the CDM market.
  - b) The Bank has an important role to play as an experienced developer of CDM and JI projects having been engaged in carbon finance for over six years. Combined with the Bank's operational experience and its capacity to work with diverse partners, the Bank's expanded engagement in carbon finance is critical for addressing the longer-term threat of climate change. With the proposed Fund and the existing funds the Bank has a diverse package of instruments.
  - c) At the same time, the CF-Assist Program supported by donor contributions provides funding for specific institutional and capacity building in countries so that the supply of CDM assets can be increased. The potential of partnerships with the EIB and other multilateral development banks can further spread the knowledge and experience of the Bank in carbon finance.
  - d) The potential benefits to developing countries in terms of capital transfers for environmentally sound projects and technological transfer from carbon finance are substantial. But there are many hurdles to overcome in building the international regulatory framework. Much more substantial flows of emission reductions and then their linkage into the European Trading Scheme (ETS) and other markets are needed. The proposed Fund would contribute to the effectiveness of the ETS through the implementation of the CDM and JI mechanisms.
  - e) The months ahead in carbon finance are important in fulfilling the obligations and expectations of many countries that have ratified the Kyoto Protocol. The Bank has been engaged in carbon finance at an early stage and has much to offer based on this experience. With the implementation of the strategic approach to the Bank's activities in carbon finance and the prudent management of the associated risks, the Bank can improve the environment and energy efficiency in client countries while contributing to the meeting of the obligations of the ratifiers of the Kyoto Protocol.
  - f) To meet these objectives, the Bank approach for further engagement in carbon finance is based on three inter-related objectives: (i) To ensure that carbon finance contributes substantially to sustainable development, beyond its contribution to global environmental efforts; (ii) To assist in building, sustaining, and expanding the international market for carbon emission reductions and its institutional and administrative structure; and (iii) To further strengthen the capacity of developing countries to benefit from the emerging market for emission reduction credits.

5. A basic summary of the mechanics of the Fund is as follows
- a) Similar to the other carbon funds for which the World Bank acts as trustee, the Fund would be established as a trust fund administered by the Bank, with its principal activity being to purchase greenhouse gas emission reductions from projects that benefit the global environment, which are likely to be recognized under the JI, CDM, IET as well as other emerging greenhouse gas market mechanisms including ETS.
  - b) The Fund would be managed by the IBRD, and the EIB would work with IBRD to meet the objectives of the Fund. The Fund activities would be coordinated through a Fund Management Committee (FMC), which would consist of three IBRD and two EIB representatives. Every matter submitted to the FMC shall be decided by consensus of the members of the FMC. In case that consensus cannot be reached, the matter shall be decided by the majority of the votes cast by the members of the FMC.
  - c) As trustee of the Fund, the Bank would provide carbon finance to projects appraised by either the Bank or the EIB, directly or through the contracting of private sector entities, as mentioned below. An agreement will be executed between the IBRD and the EIB setting out the specific relationship between the two organizations. The agreement would complement the instrument establishing the Fund and would set out the respective roles and responsibilities of the two organizations in relation to the application of safeguard policies and the projects' due diligence, as well as define the fees for carbon asset creation tasks undertaken by IBRD on behalf of EIB. The agreement would also establish the specific tasks of the IBRD and EIB with respect to projects appraised by them. Each institution would appraise the projects that are originated from its pipeline. Nevertheless, IBRD as trustee of the Fund would be a party to the emission reduction purchase agreements (ERPAs) for all projects supported by the Fund, including those projects coming through the portfolio of the EIB, and the same procedures and practices applicable to the ERPAs signed on behalf of the other carbon funds for which the World Bank acts as trustee would apply.
  - d) The Fund would support projects that are consistent with all international rules and procedures established under the Kyoto Protocol's CDM and JI mechanisms, and which comply with the operational policies and procedures of the World Bank and EIB, as the case may be. Projects incoming through IBRD's portfolio will comply with the World Bank's policies and procedures and Country Assistance Strategies. Projects incoming through EIB's portfolio will comply with the relevant policies of EIB. The IBRD can decide to also apply the operational policies and procedures of the World Bank to any project coming to the Fund through the EIB's portfolio. The World Bank review concluded that in most areas pertaining to environmental assessment there is a rough parity between EIB's and World Bank's policies. However, there are differences between the public consultation and disclosure policies of the EIB and World Bank that could require the World Bank's public disclosure policy to be applied to particular projects coming through EIB's portfolio. Moreover, projects that would trigger World Bank policies other than environmental assessment, such as resettlement issues or indigenous people policies, shall in all cases need to comply with such policies and procedures of the World Bank. The World Bank and the EIB are in the process of defining the administrative practice that would set out the steps to be followed in the application of the safeguard policies, including the environmental assessment categorization of projects. Whether application of World Bank safeguard policies is needed shall be determined by the relevant World Bank regional department, and shall be documented in the form of an initial Integrated Safeguard Data Sheet (ISDS). The ISDS shall be updated at a later stage to ensure any safeguard issues that may have been identified in the preparation of the project are captured.

- e) A major difference to other carbon funds of the World Bank is that the Fund also sets an explicit objective of inviting private sector entities to act as implementing entities for project sourcing and development for up to 30% of the value of the carbon assets acquired by the first tranche of the Fund. Working together with private sector implementing entities will directly contribute to the stated objectives of both the World Bank and the EIB of developing and opening the market for private sector entity participation in various roles, thereby “crowding in” the private sector into the carbon market. Implementing entities would be selected at the commencement of the Fund, and possibly at a later stage, using a procurement process acceptable to the IBRD. Such implementing entities would be responsible for identifying and submitting, and preparing projects that meet the project selection and portfolio criteria set by the FMC.
- f) The Fund would be structured in tranches, each tranche having a specific set of project portfolio criteria. The target size of the first tranche would be €50 million, but the Fund would start operations at €40 million. The Fund could decide to participate in a tranche of the Umbrella Carbon Facility.
- g) After its establishment, the Fund would be open to the participation of European private and public sector entities, with a minimum contribution from public sector entities of €10 million and from private sector entities of €2.5 million.
- h) The Carbon Finance Unit currently assuming responsibility for the management of the other carbon funds for which the World Bank acts as trustee would be responsible for providing support and management to this Fund, including appointing the Fund manager who will be responsible for the day to day management of the Fund.
- i) The Fund would have a life of twelve years from the operational date of the first tranche of the Fund. Unless otherwise agreed by the Participants, with the exception of activities necessary to wind up the business of the Fund, the Fund would terminate all operations by December 31, 2017. The World Bank, as trustee of this Fund, may make a decision to terminate the Fund at any given time.

The Fund is described in Attachment A to this Memorandum.

- 6. The agreement establishing the Fund would ensure that the World Bank and EIB would both fully recover their costs in administration of the Fund, in creating Kyoto-compliant emissions reductions, in the supervision of the underlying projects and in maintaining the associated emissions reductions assets in accordance with the Kyoto Protocol over the 10-14 year periods of most emissions reductions purchase agreements.

Proposed Amendments to the Instrument Establishing the BioCarbon Fund

- 7. The BioCF is one of nine carbon funds managed by the IBRD as Trustee. The BioCF involves the purchase, on behalf of fund participants, of emission reductions of carbon dioxide that result from projects that involve Land Use, Land-Use Change, and Forestry (“LULUCF”). These emission reductions generate credits that can be used for compliance under the Kyoto Protocol to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate change. Participants in the BioCF include nine private companies, and five sovereign nations/public entities. The purposes of the Instrument amendments are to:

(i) Formalize the fund's tranche and window structure. Under the BioCF structure as revised in Attachment A hereto, fund participants can make monetary contributions to different tranches of the fund. The first tranche of the BioCF closed to participation on August 31, 2005. A second tranche is currently under development. Under the first tranche, participants could contribute to one of two windows. The first window involves the purchase of emission reductions that are intended to be compliant with the Kyoto Protocol, and is currently limited to afforestation and reforestation activities. The second window purchases emissions reductions from LULUCF activities that are not limited to afforestation and reforestation activities, and could include activities like forest conservation, forest management, sustainable agriculture, and land management. The second tranche of the BioCF is expected to contain two comparable windows. Participants have contributed $53.8 million to the first tranche, and the total size of the BioCF across all tranches is not expected to exceed US$200 million, consistent with the Board memorandum dated August 11, 2003 regarding the BioCF's formation. The Bank generally has identified sufficient projects to utilize the first tranche's capital, so new projects typically would be allocated to the second (or subsequent) tranches.

(ii) Clarify certain definitions, provisions and protocols. These revisions address several definitions that merit minor clarification. Additionally, some additional definitions and substantive provisions are modified to accommodate the tranche/window structure, such as the provisions regarding participant meetings. Other minor revisions include allowing the Trustee to provide documentation to fund participants as required for the BioCF annual meeting no later than 14 days, rather than 30 days, in advance of that meeting.

(iii) Revise the Instrument to eliminate the requirement that Instrument amendments require approval by the Executive Directors of the Bank. The process for approving amendments within the Bank is an internal matter that does not need to be specified in the Instrument. Executive Directors' approval would be sought only for material amendments. This revision would conform the BioCF instrument to the instruments for other carbon funds that the Bank manages.

(iv) Authorize the BioCF to purchase "replacement" credits. Under decisions adopted pursuant to the Kyoto Protocol, LULUCF emission reduction credits are temporary and must be "replaced" by other emission reduction credits when the LULUCF credits expire. The Kyoto protocol involves specific registry accounts for identifying when LULUCF credits are replaced with non-LULUCF credits. BioCF participants want to obtain replacement credits, and the Bank acting as Trustee has identified sellers who are willing to sell such credits to the BioCF. The BioCF generally would purchase these replacement credits from projects where other Bank carbon funds are already purchasing emission credits, such as projects involving renewable energy, landfill gas control or other projects that reduce greenhouse gas emissions from activities other than land use or forestry. The BioCF would purchase these credits on a forward basis, paying in advance for emission reductions that are delivered after other Bank carbon funds receive their credits. The BioCF generally would receive delivery of these replacement credits in the 2013-2019 timeframe, which is consistent with the BioCarbon Fund's scheduled termination, and wind-up of operations, at the end of 2020.

The proposed changes are set forth in Attachment B to this Memorandum.

8. The Bank has obtained all necessary consents from the BioCF participants for the above changes. Further, the changes described herein are consistent with changes that were recently approved by the Executive Directors regarding other carbon funds that the Bank manages (with the exception of the replacement credits provisions that are unique to LULUCF projects and thus especially relevant to the BioCF)<sup>3</sup>.

Recommendation

9. I, therefore, recommend that the Executive Directors approve the establishment of the World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe on the terms described in Attachment A and the amendments to the BioCarbon Fund Instrument described in paragraph 7 above.

WORLD BANK /EIB CARBON FUND FOR EUROPE (“CFE”)

TERM SHEET

The Fund

The World Bank/EIB Carbon Fund for Europe (“Fund”) is designed to be a trust fund established and held by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (“IBRD” or, in its capacity as trustee for the Fund, the “Trustee”) on behalf of European public and private financial contributors (“Participants”). The Fund would be managed by the IBRD. The European Investment Bank (“EIB”) would work with the IBRD to meet the objectives of the Fund.

Purpose and Strategy

The purposes of the Fund would include:

- Purchasing, on behalf of the Participants, project-based greenhouse gas emission reductions (“ERs”) which are, or which are likely to be recognized under Joint Implementation (“JI”) under Article 6 of the Kyoto Protocol, the Clean Development Mechanism (“CDM”) under Article 12 of the Kyoto Protocol, or International Emissions Trading (“IET”) under Article 17 of the Kyoto Protocol, as well as other emerging greenhouse gas market mechanisms including the EU Emission Trading Scheme (“EU ETS”);
- Stimulating private capital flows for sustainable development in accordance with the Plan of Implementation concluded at the Johannesburg World Summit for Sustainable Development, and in so doing, continuing to expand the reach of carbon finance and the Kyoto Mechanisms to countries and communities which would otherwise be potentially excluded from the benefits of the emerging carbon market;
- Based on the knowledge already gained by the IBRD in the implementation of projects and the creation and management of carbon assets in accordance with the Marrakech Accords of the Kyoto Protocol, building European private and public sector capacity to efficiently meet European governments’ obligations arising from the Kyoto Protocol and those of corporations in the EU ETS;
- Supporting the involvement and participation of the private sector in the emerging carbon market, by outsourcing a portion of the carbon asset creation tasks to private sector implementing entities (“Implementing Entities”).

Structure and Size of the Fund

The Fund would be established as a trust fund with a series of tranches, each administered by the IBRD acting as trustee, and funded by European private and public sector Participants such that:

- Participants in the Fund would each contribute to a particular tranche of the Fund;

- Each tranche would purchase certified ERs (“CERs”), ER units (“ERUs”), assigned amount units (“AAUs”), removal units (“RMUs”) or verified ERs (“VERs”) from different projects;
- The Fund could participate in a tranche of the Umbrella Carbon Facility;
- On the basis of demonstrated demand, new tranches could be opened for contributions, using the same process as for the first tranche – that is, the Fund Manager would nominate an opening date, a closing date and the necessary level of minimum contribution for participation;
- Each Participant in the Fund would have voting rights in relation to matters affecting the tranche to which it contributed in proportion to its contribution;
- The Fund will receive contributions in Euro (“€”) and payments due for emission reductions under the Fund will also be denominated in €;
- The indicative target size of the initial tranche of the Fund is €50 million with the goal of commencing operations with €40 million in contributions; and
- The project selection and portfolio development criteria for each tranche would be determined and notified to potential Participants in advance of the opening date for that Tranche.

Participants

Participation in the Fund would be limited to European public and private sector entities approved by the Fund Management Committee (“FMC”).

Term

The operation of the Fund would extend to December 31, 2017.

Project Selection Criteria

To be included in the first tranche of the Fund, a project must:

- Be consistent with all international rules and procedures governing and associated with JI, or the CDM established under Articles 6 and 12 of the Kyoto Protocol, respectively, or achieve verified Emission Reductions or other verified environmental benefits acceptable to the Fund Participants to be linked to a transfer of Assigned Amount Units in accordance with Article 17 of the Kyoto Protocol;
- Be consistent with Host Countries criteria, including the relevant criteria regarding sustainable development; and
- Projects incoming through IBRD’s portfolio will comply with the World Bank’s policies and procedures and Country Assistance Strategies. Projects incoming through EIB’s portfolio will comply with the relevant policies of EIB. The IBRD may also decide to apply the operational policies and procedures of the World Bank to any project coming to the Fund through the EIB’s portfolio.

Emission Reductions Purchase Agreement

(“ERPA”)

Under the emission reduction purchase agreement (“ERPA”) a project entity would sell to the Trustee on behalf of the Fund, all rights, title and interests in a portion of the ERs generated by the project, whether it comes from the IBRD’s or the EIB’s portfolio or whether it has been developed by private Implementing Entities.

Payments would generally be made on delivery, although advance payments could be made in accordance with IBRD's practice on advance payment and agreed with the Participants. In some cases, the ERPA may provide for the purchase of a call option on ERs.

Prices for ERs would be set in a fair and transparent manner and would be adjusted to risk in accordance with the IBRD's practice on pricing for ERs.

Role of the Trustee

The IBRD in its role as trustee, would be solely responsible for administering the Fund, including procuring audits, providing financial reports, managing drawdowns and receiving and administering the participations in the Fund. In addition, the Trustee would be responsible for concluding the ERPAs for Fund projects and any related agreements with Host Countries and collecting, recording and monitoring the transfer of ERs from the Fund projects or program to the relevant Participants.

Role of the Implementing Entities

The Fund may invite private sector entities to act as Implementing Entities for project sourcing and development for up to 30% of the value of the carbon assets acquired by the Fund. Implementing Entities would be selected at the commencement of the Fund, and possibly at a later stage, using a procurement process acceptable to the IBRD. Such Implementing Entities would be responsible for identifying and submitting, and preparing projects that meet the project selection and portfolio criteria requirements of the Fund.

Role of the Fund Management Committee ("FMC")

The Fund would have a Fund Management Committee to oversee the operations. The FMC would comprise two members appointed by the IBRD, two members appointed by the EIB and the Fund Manager. The IBRD shall designate the chairman.

Except as otherwise provided in the legal instrument establishing the Fund, every matter submitted to the FMC shall be decided by consensus of the members of the FMC. In case that consensus cannot be reached, the matter shall be decided by the majority of the votes cast by the members of the FMC.

The role of the FMC would be to:

- Provide guidance to the Fund Manager on the operation of the Fund, including the project portfolio;
- Review and approve proposed annual business plans and budgets for the forthcoming fiscal year for the Fund and the tranches, prior to submission to the Participants;
- Independently review and approve projects proposed for support by the Fund prior to the review of that project by the relevant Participants' Committee;
- Review and approve Participants that have expressed an interest in becoming Participants in a tranche of the Fund;
- Approve guidelines for the process by which third parties can qualify as Implementing Entities for the purposes of identifying, developing and supervising projects and approve the Implementing Entities;

- Approve guidelines to ensure that all agreements comply with the requirements of the international rules; and
- Approve the project selection criteria and the project portfolio criteria for each tranche.

Role of the Fund Manager

The Fund Manager for the Fund would be a Bank staff member from the IBRD's Carbon Finance Unit appointed by the IBRD.

The Fund Manager would use the services of the IBRD's Carbon Finance Unit, which provides services for the management of other IBRD-managed carbon funds, and would be responsible for the day to day management of the operations of the Fund. In addition, the Fund Manager would be responsible for the day-to-day management of the Fund, including for overseeing the operation of projects, managing the annual business cycle for the Fund and reporting to Fund Participants.

Participants' Committee

The Trustee would cause to be established a Participants' Committee for each tranche, with 5 members elected by the Participants bi-annually at the Annual Participants' Meeting. The constitution of the Participants' Committee as between public and private sector representatives for a tranche would be based on a pro rata distribution of participation between the private and public sector Participants. The Participants' Committee would elect its own chairperson at its first meeting after each annual meeting of Participants. The Participants' Committee would meet immediately before the annual meeting of Participants in that tranche, and at any other time, as required. The Participants' Committee for each tranche will be responsible for:

- Providing general advice to the Fund Manager on issues regarding the operation of the tranche,
- Authorizing expenditures which exceed the total annual budget previously approved by the Participants for that fiscal year by more than 10%;
- Clearing projects on a no objection at the Carbon Finance Document (CFD) stage for its inclusion in the portfolio;
- Determining whether to participate in a tranche of the Umbrella Carbon Facility and the amount of such participation; and
- Authorizing the Trustee to distribute ERs from a project or from the Umbrella Carbon Facility to multiple tranches.

Project cycle and approval process

The FMC would clear Projects, at the Project Idea Note (PIN) stage, for further development and, at the CFD stage, for submission to the Participants' Committee. The Participants' Committee would provide its no-objection clearance for inclusion of the project in the pipeline of the Fund after a 10-business day review period.

Contributions and Drawdowns

Contributions to the Fund by a Participant would be expected upon signing a Participation Agreement. Contributions would take the form of an unconditional promissory note or a prepayment. The Trustee would hold any prepayments on trust in a multidonor trust fund managed by the IBRD which would generate interest. Such interest generated would be applied to support the implementation of CF Assist, a technical assistance program established by the World Bank. The drawdowns for the Fund would be calculated by the Trustee based on the requirements for payments under ERPAs and any other administrative requirements.

The Trustee would notify potential Participants in advance of the opening date of each tranche of the minimum initial contribution and the minimum additional contributions. For the first tranche, the minimum contribution for participation by private sector entities would be €2.5 million (two and a half million euros), and for public sector entities, €10 million (ten million euros).

Rights to Emission Reductions

All ERs generated by the projects and acquired under ERPAs would be purchased on behalf of, and transferred to the Participants.

Costs

Costs incurred by the Trustee, the IBRD and the EIB in developing the Fund, and each subsequent tranche of the Fund, would be reimbursed from Fund property after the operational date of the tranche. Costs incurred in operating the Fund on an ongoing basis would be deducted on a cost recovery basis following the submission of annual business plans and budgets.

In addition, Fund property would also be used to reimburse the Trustee, the IBRD, or any other parties, including the EIB, for costs incurred in project identification and preparation activities.

Plans and Reports

Participants would receive an annual progress report on the projects included in their tranche of the Fund, prepared by the Fund Manager.

Fund Documentation

The Fund would be established pursuant to a Fund Instrument. Each Participant would enter into a Participation Agreement with the Trustee, setting out the terms and conditions of its participation in the Fund. There would be an agreement between the IBRD and the EIB, as well as agreements between IBRD or EIB, as the case may be, and each Implementing Entity setting out the terms and conditions of the relationship between the various parties, including rules of procedure.

Limits on Liability;
Indemnification

The Trustee, the Bank, the EIB, and any person who is, or has been, an officer, employee or agent of the Trustee, the Bank, the EIB or the Fund (each an “Indemnified Party”) shall be indemnified out of Fund Property against any loss, liability, cost, claim, action, demand or expense (including, but not limited to, all reasonable costs, charges and expenses paid or incurred in disputing or defending any of the foregoing) which any Indemnified Party may incur or which may be made against any of them arising out of or in connection with the Fund’s activities (including, without limitation, any such claims arising from Participants’ actions or failure to act pursuant to this Instrument), except as may result from the Indemnified Party’s gross negligence or willful misconduct.

Termination

Either the Trustee or the Participants by a unanimous vote may decide to terminate the Fund upon written notice to the other party. In the event of such a termination, the assets of the Fund would be distributed pro rata amongst the Participants, unless otherwise instructed in writing by the Participants to assign those assets and/or management rights and obligations to a third party.

In the event that the EIB wishes to withdraw from the Fund, the EIB shall give written notice to the Trustee, and the Participants of its desire to withdraw from the Fund; and the IBRD will become the sole manager of the Fund and shall assume all the responsibilities set out in the Instrument.

Trustee withdrawal from Dispute or Claim

In order to avoid any potential conflict of interest between the IBRD and the Trustee, or the IBRD and the EIB, and notwithstanding any other provision of this Instrument, neither the Trustee, nor the IBRD nor the EIB shall have any obligation to prosecute, defend, compromise, negotiate, abandon or adjust, by arbitration, or otherwise, any action, suit, proceeding, dispute, claim or demand or any default or potential default by a host country or project entity under any agreement.

SCHEDULE 2 TO INSTRUMENT

DESCRIPTION OF ELIGIBLE LULUCF PROJECT ACTIVITIES

Category	Description
Community reforestation Reforestation	Community reforestation Reforestation (or afforestation Afforestation) is the establishment of trees on lands that were previously not forested carried out either by local communities or with the participation of local communities. The trees can have productive value (timber, fuel wood, fruits and other forest products) or they can primarily be for conservation or environmental uses such as habitat corridors, water catchments and soil stabilization. Community reforestation (and agroforestry below) gives maximum opportunities for local participation and local benefits. These Projects are expected to meet the Marrakesh Accords' restriction of eligibility to Afforestation and Reforestation Activities and demonstrated to be additional. Community forestry and conservation Projects have high permanence value as they will continue to deliver a stream of benefits to the community over many decades.
Agroforestry	Agroforestry is a mixed farming system that includes an overstorey of trees that provide protection to the understorey crops and sometimes addition products such as fruit or nitrogen input to the soil. Agroforestry Projects might be expected to change with time as local incomes increase etc, but the replacement activities are likely to maintain the carbon stores. Permanence is likely to be high, but greater monitoring effort will be required.
Biofuels	The BioCarbon Fund will include biofuel Projects where they include the establishment of significant new carbon sinks or the protection of existing fuel sources. Biofuels provide a core of assets with full permanence.
Forest restoration and forest management	These activities cover the planting or the encouragement of natural vegetation in existing, degraded forests. They have conservation value with high potential permanence. These activities are not eligible as CDM Projects.
Forest conservation	This activity includes the protection of remnant forest patches within a series of other activities (such as improved agricultural practices, community reforestation etc) across an entire landscape. These activities are not eligible as CDM Projects.
Sustainable agriculture	Activities include better soil management (e.g. by planting nitrogen fixing croplands croplands and reduced tillage to minimize carbon losses from the soil). Sustainable agriculture that does not qualify as agroforestry is not eligible under the CDM.
Revegetation	This is equivalent to community reforestation but uses vegetation other than trees. It is most commonly carried out in dryland areas and it is the only prospect in many parts of the world. It usually has high environmental and social benefits and will be additional. Permanence will be high while management practices are maintained.
Arid and semi-arid land management	Project activities that sequester carbon in semi-arid or arid lands while achieving additional soil protection benefits, such as, for example, Afforestation and Reforestation, revegetation, and grazing land management.
Marine, coastal and aquatic ecosystem management	Project activity which sequesters or conserves carbon in marine, coastal and freshwater ecosystems, including but not limited to, mangrove Afforestation and Reforestation, salt water forest restoration, salt water agriculture, the restoration of coral reef systems, the creation of artificial reefs or the equivalent in freshwater ecosystems.
